

Understanding National Pollutant Inventory Reporting Workshop

Workshop: MELBOURNE — 12 June 2009

Presenter

Lok Nethercott
NPI Specialist
EnviroRisk Management

Lok Nethercott has assisted many industries in developing their NPI Reports and is seen as one of the leading consultants in this area. Lok has also trained many industry practitioners to develop and submit their own reports.

This Workshop will assist business and industry to understand the obligations under the National Pollutant Inventory (NPI) requirements and to assist you in submitting your reports by 30 September 2009.

Each year many businesses and industries struggle to capture, interpret and report appropriate information to the National Pollutant Inventory (NPI).

For certain industrial facilities, information about pollutants are required to be reported by 30 September of each year to the EPA. Reporting is mandatory for those facilities that trigger the reporting threshold. Penalties will apply for late and non reporters.

The AEBN Understanding National Pollutant Inventory Reporting Workshop will provide participants with:

- Background information on NPI;
- Additional reporting requirements including capturing and reporting of Transfers;
- Information on Report lodgment options for industry;
- An understanding of the implications of NPI Reporting;
- Updates and user information for Industry Handbooks;
- Steps to maximise the benefits which may be gained from NPI Reports;
- Case studies of the benefits and pitfalls of NPI Report generation; and
- Information to streamline the NPI process.

This timely workshop will provide assistance and insights to anybody attempting to complete NPI Reports. Networking during morning tea and a comprehensive set of notes will be provided.
